LAS VEGAS, NV - Rebuilding Together-Southern Nevada, Cricket Communications and local sponsor Keller Williams Realty will join forces tomorrow to help a Las Vegas family with much needed home repairs. More than 50 Cricket and Keller Williams employees, family members and the surrounding community will be volunteering their time to renovate and repair the home on Thursday, May 12, 2011.

The initiative is part of an ongoing partnership, for which Rebuilding Together and Cricket are repairing and restoring homes, revitalizing communities and making lasting impressions on the many volunteers and sponsors who give their time and energy to changing the lives families throughout Las Vegas and the United States.

Event sponsor, Keller Williams Realty will also participate in celebration of RED Day (Renew, Energize and Donate), an initiative dedicated to celebrating Keller Williams Realty's year-round commitment to improving local communities. Each year, on the second Thursday in May, thousands of associates from across the United States and Canada participate in a wide range of projects, devoting their time to renewing and energizing aspects of the neighborhoods in which they serve.

The homeowners, who are long-time residents of Las Vegas, are in dire need of home repair due to limited resources and years of structural determination. When the work is completed, the home will have new landscaping, new interior and exterior paint, bathroom renovations and other interior repairs.

"Today, many low-income homeowners are forced to choose between vital necessities and essential home repairs," said Cynthia Baca, Executive Director of Rebuilding Together Southern Nevada. "RTSNV is extremely grateful to Cricket and Keller Williams for their support and commitment to helping preserve affordable homeownership and community revitalization throughout Southern Nevada."
